Outsmart cyber-criminals. Keep scammer tricks top of mind.

It's not unusual to create passwords based on your favorite things. But when you answer questions sent to you by email, text, social media, or phone calls, you could be sharing too much information.

Here are some common social engineering scams:

- Phishing. Emails or messages pretending to be legitimate people or businesses. They usually request your personal information, such as passwords or credit card numbers.
- Smishing. Scammers send text or messages via a social media platform. Again, they pretend to be someone from your circle or a legitimate business but are trying to get you to reveal personal information.
